2. Don Norman, enlarged cover detail

3. Current FriendlyFive agreement form

1. Readable at different sizes

Inter has a tall x-height and clear lowercase forms. Its weight range supports headings and smaller instructions within one family.

2. Emphasis within a title

Bold capitals emphasize the main words. Smaller italic words recede comparatively. FriendlyFive is able to separate headings from instructions through size and weight.

3. Used in FriendlyFive

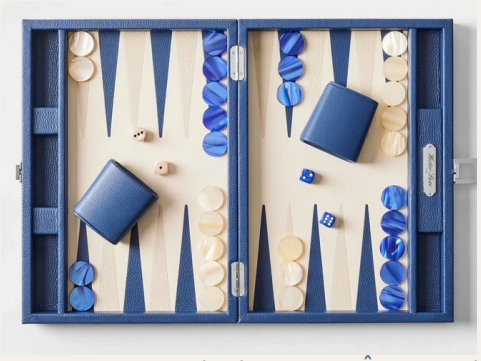

Inter headings lead the page. Bold labels identify fields, while regular text explains the terms and what happens next. Together these choices make the intended use of the app easy to follow and understand

Colors I used in FriendlyFive

1. Cream beside blue

The sailcloth and water pair warm neutrals with blue. The balance between the boat and the water is like the balance between a friendship and a bet where the water or the bet can turn harsh if not kept calm

2. Friendly competition

The navy and ivory board separates the pieces clearly. Its familiar game setting connects the palette to friendly competition like FriendlyFive.

3. Used in FriendlyFive

Cream creates a warm welcome. The light card groups the form, while blue highlights the sign-in action.
